ABORTION -- A GLOBAL CONCERN

It's easy to think that abortion is only a problem where you live, but literally millions of people are fighting the same fight throughout the world:

- China's one child per family policy results in forced abortions being performed daily
- India commits genocide by aborting young women in the womb
- 115,000 babies are aborted daily worldwide

As we fight for life, we will watch abortion numbers drop, save lives outside of abortion clinics, teach purity, spare women from forced abortion, encourage governments to support right to life in the womb, restore human dignity, and so much more!

But we can't do it alone. We must to be trained, we must have comrades in arms, and we need to bring our resources together to stop abortion worldwide.

This conference will equip and activate young people to stand for life in their own hometowns, their countries, and as part of an international community. Young people will learn with each other in a unity of purpose that, Lord willing, will result in life-long friendships. We are confident that networks begun here will continue to be fruitful for years to come.
